

Bill Blank

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER Rock of Ages

Bill brings over two decades of leadership in faith-based organizations and senior living communities. His background in pastoral ministry, organizational coaching, and nonprofit consulting has helped churches and elder care teams across the country navigate meaningful transitions. Bill's leadership is deeply rooted in his belief that every person is uniquely gifted by God to live life fully. It's a belief he lives out in all areas of his life including work, family, and recreation. Bill's leadership style reflects his theology, seminary studies, and organizational leadership training. At Rock of Ages, Bill's strategic mindset and heart for people foster a culture where trust grows, mission leads, and seniors are honored every step of the way.
