Kevin Paluszak

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Pleasant View, Inc.

Since 2021, Kevin has served as Chief Executive Officer of Pleasant View, Inc., a faith-based nonprofit providing a full continuum of services for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. His nearly 30-year career in health and human services has taken him from entry-level positions to state regulatory roles and statewide private consulting. Throughout his career, he has gained broad experience across the human services landscape, including behavioral health, child and adolescent programs, substance abuse treatment, acute psychiatric care, foster care, and community-based support.

Kevin's professional experiences have consistently influenced his educational pursuits. Following what he describes as a "school of hard knocks" approach, he believes in gaining practical, real-world experience before pursuing the formal education that deepens and reinforces what he has learned. He earned a Bachelor of Individualized Studies from Virginia State University, a historically Black college and university, and later used his U.S. Navy veteran benefits to complete a Master of Arts in Human Service Counseling from Liberty University. He is currently completing his capstone/dissertation for a Doctor of Strategic Leadership, also at Liberty University.

Combining decades of hands-on experience with academic study, Kevin brings a distinctive perspective to organizational operations, program development, and leadership. His journey—which includes earlier chapters as both a college dropout and a beach bum—has shaped a leadership approach grounded in practical insight, strategic thinking, and a deep appreciation for the lessons learned along the way.
